

STEPPED CONNECTION

A project with lower-ground-floor space left architecture studio Cousins & Cousins and landscape designer Climb Ldn with a quandary: how to connect it with the garden? 'Forming a stepped landscape planter opens up the view and removes the sense of enclosure, connecting the different levels and creating a lovely space to socialise and enjoy alfresco dining,' says Jelena Cousins, co-founder and creative director of Cousins & Cousins.

